"Community Banking is Life"

CBAI is 'traveling' to Indianapolis, Indiana, for its 52nd Annual Convention & Exposition. Basketball runs through the veins of the Midwest like corn through its fields - deep-rooted, resilient and fiercely loyal. Born in Massachusetts but baptized in the barns, gyms and driveways of Illinois, Indiana and beyond, the game became more than just a sport in the Heartland; it became a way of life. One of the most iconic moments ever in basketball history came in 1954, when tiny Milan High School in Indiana defied the odds to win the state championship - a Cinderella story that inspired the classic movie "Hoosiers." The story is a classic "David vs. Goliath" narrative, showing how a small-town team can achieve great things and overcome larger, more established opponents.

Community banking, like basketball, is about strategy, execution and staying ahead of the competition. Just as a basketball team thrives with a strong coach and talented players, a successful bank needs leadership, sharp decision-making and the ability to adapt to a fast-paced game. Basketball history is full of hometown pride, underdog victories and game-changing moments - the same qualities that define community bankers. No matter what position you play in community banking, the lessons of the hardwood apply: work on the fundamentals; trust your team; and always take the shot when opportunity arises.

Register your team for CBAI's 52nd Annual Convention & Exposition in Indianapolis, Indiana. From tip-off to the final buzzer, you don't want to miss one shining moment!

FRIDAY OPENING BREAKFAST

Alan Stein, Jr. is an acclaimed basketball performance coach, who spent 15 years working with the highest-performing athletes on the planet (including NBA superstars Kevin Durant, Stephen Curry and Kobe Bryant). He transfers that knowledge to reveal how leaders and teams can utilize the same approaches in business that elite athletes use to perform at a world-class level.

Stein Jr.'s presentation, titled Next Play: How to Focus on What Matters Most and Improve Performance, Productivity & Fulfillment, is designed to show how reaching the top of your game doesn't require more. It requires less but better. The Next Play Mindset is the ultimate guide for individuals and organizations who want to close the gap between where they are and where they want to be. It isn't just a performance strategy—it's a life strategy. One that helps you manage transitions, bounce back from adversity, stay centered, adapt quickly, reduce stress, and let go of resentment.

CONCURRENT EDUCATION SESSIONS

One prominent speaker after another addresses cutting-edge topics during these targeted educational sessions. They provide the knowledge to lead your community bank to top performance. A directors' track remains an important part of the agenda.
