Remote Workforce Series: Moving to the Cloud: Remote Management of Risks to Customer Data

Thursday, April 8, 2021

2 - 3:30 p.m.

“Cloud computing” has been around for over a decade and has gained traction in financial institutions of all sizes and system complexity. With the move to cloud computing comes new risks and considerations. The cloud is not a silver-bullet solution to outsourcing system risk and safeguarding accountholder data. Learn what financial institutions should do to ensure the necessary steps are being taken to secure accountholder information, comply with industry regulations, and leverage the benefits of cloud computing.

HIGHLIGHTS

- Understand the steps to prepare for a move to the cloud and avoid common pitfalls
- Distinguish different cloud types and the pros and cons of each
- Identify and assess cloud computing risk
- Determine whether moving to the cloud could be the right move for your institution

TAKE-AWAY TOOLKIT

- Best practice checklist to ensure compliance with cloud computing regulations
- Questions to ask your cloud vendor as part of vendor management
- Itemization of critical security requirements to include in a cloud vendor contract
- List of critical performance and support requirements that should be in a cloud vendor contract
- Employee training log
- Interactive quiz
